The article below discusses the benefits and harm caused by the internet. Read it carefully and answer the questions that follow.

- 1 As we progress into the twenty-first century, we take along one of the greatest icons of the previous century—the internet. When the internet came into existence in the late 1900s, it revolutionised the way we did things. Since then, some people have been saying that the internet does more harm than good. However, I beg to differ and in my opinion, the internet has brought about more good than harm. 5
- 2 Firstly, the internet has brought us a great amount of convenience. It saves us a tremendous amount of time and effort. Where in the past, we would need to personally stand in line and waste an invaluable amount of time, now, the internet enables us to complete tasks in the comfort of one spot. We are able to make bank transactions in front of the computer and even order food from the internet instead of spending hours queueing up at a bank and at a fast food restaurant respectively. We are able to do this anywhere, anytime. 10
- 3 Also, the amount of information that can be found on the internet is quite limitless. It also helps us save money. We are able to search for information on a whole myriad of things ranging from the recipe of an apple pie to instructions for learning French. We need not pay for a course on how to learn French or bake apple pies when there are many websites which can aid us in those. 15

- 4 Furthermore, the internet helps us save space. It is the bookshop, Global Positioning System (GPS), Yellow Pages and encyclopaedia, among other search mediums, all rolled into one. We need not own books and encyclopaedias, piles of recipe books or thousands of gadgets any more. The business section of the Yellow Pages is made redundant because all we need to do now is to type the name of the shop we are looking for and all the information including a contact number will be available. All we need is access to the internet. Everything is online. 20 25
- 5 It is not all rosy though. The internet does bring about some vices too.
- 6 Because of the multitude of information out there, there is bound to be undesirable information present too. Our children are forced to grow up and learn things that those in the past would not have even heard of till they were older. The age of innocence is shortened. 30
- 7 As much as it is easier to spread the news like recommending good places to eat on the internet, the negative pieces of news spread like wildfire too. There is now an easy way to spread negative news. With easy access to websites like 'Stomp' and 'YouTube', people caught in compromising situations can easily be shamed when filmed and their clips get uploaded on such websites. 35
- 8 All in all, although there are disadvantages of the internet for they do provide an easy avenue for people to cause more widespread harm because of the wide reach it has, the advantages outweigh these disadvantages. The internet saves time and space, and the amount of information we can find on it is limitless. The possibilities to utilise the benefits are simply endless. 40
